

LOCAL BREVITIES.

After many delays the water suit comes up for trial today.

As soon as cool weather sets in, building will recommence in this city with vigor.

The water main on Center street burst last evening and flooded quite an extent of street.

The Convocation of Arizona Chapter, R. A. M., is suspended until the stated meeting in September, unless special notification is given.

Yesterday was generally noted as being the quietest day of the season. A Puritanical Sabbath calm seemed to have settled upon the town.

Ruff's thresher is working on Harbert's section, north of the city. The threshers will not complete their labors in the valley for over a month yet.

School District, No. 1, will today sell at public auction all real property in the District upon which school taxes are due and unpaid. Clerk Sweeney will officiate as auctioneer.

Clouds of smoke from the surrounding country indicate that farmers have commenced to fire their stubble fields. This should be done every year. It eradicates for the year all weeds except sour clover.

The trouble with the incandescent lights Saturday night was caused by the breaking of a loose bolt in the engine. Superintendent Onick and his assistants worked all night like Trojans, and succeeded in getting everything into good shape ready for last night's service.

The land proofs delayed in their settlement by the rascality of ex-Register Fred. Smith, have been nearly all acted upon by the new officials at the Land Office. A number of Receiver's receipts have come to persons in Phoenix during the past week. They were all on pre-emptions and commuted homesteads. No desert proofs have been passed as yet.

Two of Arizona's fair women will be soon lifted into the active work of man's especial field through appointment as lady commissioners of the Worlds Fair. Commissioners Coats will have the selection of one from the Northern District and Commissioner Zeeckendorf will appoint the other. On whom will the choice fall?

It is believed by the residents of Marqua Hala, now in Phoenix on account of the Horne suit, that the telegram of Sheriff Nugent to Ed. Wells, relative to a man killed at Harrisburg, simply has reference to the killing of "Anton," on July 4. Matters are uncertain, however, as the camp is in a somewhat disrupted condition, socially. News is anxiously awaited.

The Board of Directors of the Territorial Insane Asylum, somewhat dismayed at the great cost of a sewer to the river, have been casting about for some substitute. They are now inquiring into the expediency and probable expense of a system whereby the sewage might be used for irrigating and fertilizing the large farm of the institution. Such a system is in successful operation at the Stockton Insane Asylum, California, and there seems to be no bar to its application here.
